

Space Saver Invention In Search of Licensee

An innovative new product designed to effectively address a common need for workplace settings and locations, the Space Saver, has been developed by inventor Lindsey Lopez and Lisa Siafos of Brooklyn, New York. The invention's unique design enables commercial establishments to comply with all requirements pertaining to workplace regulations without sacrificing space or orderliness.

The Space Saver's proprietary features insure that all OSHA-mandated postings are displayed in a highly visible yet organized fashion. The product is exceedingly easy to implement and begin using in virtually any workplace environment. Additionally, the Space Saver greatly eliminates the chances that important postings are temporarily misplaced or permanently lost. Furthermore, it helps businesses avoid costly fines and other penalties by insuring that they are always in compliance with OSHA-mandated postings. Moreover, the Space Saver will save considerable space for business owners. The Space Saver will also be competitively priced and made from durable metal and stainless steel, adding to its appeal.

The Space Saver is also the subject of Patent Pending status within the United States Patent and Trademark Office.

Mrs. Lopez and Mrs. Siafos now seek a third party licensee to manufacture, market, and distribute the product for them under a royalty agreement. Potential licensees in the workplace regulations accessories industry are currently being targeted as candidates to eventually commercialize the Space Saver on a worldwide basis.

In September 2015, Mrs. Lopez and Mrs. Siafos contracted Miami, Florida-based product management services leader Innovation Direct™ to represent the Space Saver to potential licensees for a 2 year period. Innovation Direct™ obtains the maximum amount of exposure for the products that it represents through its unique and patented licensing methodology and its participation in multiple and diverse industry-leading trade shows each year.
